

DANGER RANGERS

Water Safety Discussion Guide

Watching the Danger Rangers is an experience the entire family can enjoy together. Here's a few key points you can review with your child before watching "Wet & Wild"

1. Talk to your children about what it means for an adult to "actively watch" children and what to do if they are around water and at a friend's house where parents may not be "actively watching" the children.
2. It's very important that children learn to swim. Enroll them in swimming lessons taught by qualified instructors when they are ready, usually after age 4. If you don't know how to swim, enroll with your kids!
3. Remind children to never run, push, or jump on each other around water.

Let's see how much you've learned after watching "Wet & Wild"!

1. The Danger Rangers remind you that doing cannonballs and jumping in the pool may seem fun, but can be very dangerous if there are people around. They tell you that it's very important to:
 - a. Think of everyone else
 - b. Think about only yourself
 - c. Do whatever you want
2. What are some of the rules for fun in the water?
 - a. Only swim in areas designated for swimming
 - b. Always swim with a buddy
 - c. Have a grown up actively watching you at all times
 - d. All of the above
3. Squeeky says, "It makes a line on top of the watta and keeps you from swimming where you shouldn't outta." What am I?
 - a. An anchor
 - b. Pool Safety Line
 - c. Other swimmers
4. On bright days it would be wise, to wear these and protect your eyes. What am I?
 - a. A beach blanket
 - b. Flip Flops
 - c. Sunglasses with UV protection

© 1998-2000 SAFETY

For a complete list of water safety tips,
visit www.safekids.org